ATTORNEY

Dallin F. Checketts is a general practice attorney with specialized expertise in real estate and eminent domain. He earned a degree in economics from Utah State University and his JD from BYU Law. Dallin has worked as a realtor, entrepreneur, and in-house counsel for a successful real estate development company.

Dallin can simplify complex legal issues, making them more accessible and less intimidating for his clients. He believes conflict and uncertainty are detrimental to the well-being of his clients, so he strives to reduce the stress typically associated with complex legal issues by providing clear paths forward for those he represents. His approach not only eases the legal journey for his clients but also ensures that they are well-informed and confident in every step they take.

Dallin is a man of honesty and integrity—except for when he tricked his sweetheart, who is way out of his league, into marrying him. His commitments to family, friends, and faith reflect his grounded and approachable nature, qualities that he brings to his work at the firm. Whether in the courtroom or in his garden, Dallin's dedication is evident, making him a trusted advisor and advocate for his clients.
